

ENT•UK FORTHCOMING EVENTS

2010

Thursday 4 March

British Society of Otolaryngology (BSO): Tinnitus Course

The Royal College of Surgeons of England, London
Approximate attendees: 35

Tinnitus is one of the most common symptoms encountered in a general ENT clinic, yet it often seems one of the most perplexing and difficult to treat. Not infrequently, having consulted support groups and the internet, the patient seems better informed than the clinician. This course aims to provide clinicians with the tools they need to manage the majority of cases of tinnitus. The course is appropriate for consultants and senior trainees.

Friday 19 March

Otorhinolaryngological Research Society (ORS): Spring Meeting

Oxford

Friday 21 May

British Rhinological Society (BRS): 9th Annual Meeting

The National Motorcycle Museum, Solihull, West Midlands
Approximate attendees: 120

The Annual Meeting, which always attracts more than 100 delegates, showcases the best in rhinological and facial plastic practice from a UK perspective. Highlights will include the Karl Storz visiting lecture and awards for both oral and poster presentations. Reports from the Medtronic Bursary and BRS travelling prize will also be given. Further details available at www.britishrhinologicalsociety.org.uk.

Wednesday 9 June

ENT•UK Head and Neck: Consensus Day - Salivary Gland Cancer

V&A Hotel, Manchester

There is considerable controversy in many aspects of the management of salivary gland cancer. The consensus day, held under the auspices of ENT•UK Head and Neck, will examine the optimal practice of salivary gland cancer management. The format will be both educational and involving participation and debate.

Thursday 9 September

ENT•UK Clinical Audit and Practice Advisory Group (CAPAG) Meeting

University Hospitals Coventry and Warwickshire, Heart of England NHS Foundation Trust
Clinical Sciences Building, Warwick Medical School, Clifford Bridge Road, Coventry, Warwickshire CV2 2DX
Approximate attendees: 80

This is a meeting organised by the Clinical Audit and Practice Advisory Group of ENT•UK to advance the knowledge of clinical audit and evidence based medicine within ENT. There will be invited lectures as well as short paper presentations. The best short paper presented will be awarded a prize. To improve the quality of submissions, CAPAG will provide guidance to authors of potential submissions on how to prepare the presentation of their papers.

Friday 10 September

ENT•UK Annual Conference - in conjunction with the Otorhinological Research Society (ORS)

University Hospitals Coventry and Warwickshire, Heart of England NHS Foundation Trust
Clinical Sciences Building, Warwick Medical School, Clifford Bridge Road, Coventry, Warwickshire CV2 2DX
Approximate attendees: 200

This is a one-day conference open to members and non-members. The Yearsley Lecturer has been named as Professor Leslie Michaels. The Gordon Smyth Lecturer is yet to be announced. For the first time there will be an integral free paper session run by the Otorhinological Research Society who have elected to join with the ENT•UK Annual Conference for their autumn meeting.

Saturday 11-Sunday 12 September

British Society of Otolaryngology (BSO): Anglo-Swedish Meeting

Corpus Christi College, Oxford
Approximate attendees: 100

This is the first joint meeting between the British Society of Otolaryngology and the Swedish Otolaryngological Society. There will be an academic meeting both mornings and a social programme in the afternoons. The programme encourages active participation by all delegates in an informal and relaxing environment. Topics will cover clinical and organisational aspects of otology and neuro-otology. Members from both societies can learn from each other and compare their practice. Oxford is an attractive, historic city and participants are encouraged to bring their partners.

Friday 17 September

British Association for Paediatric Otorhinolaryngology (BAPO): Academic Meeting

Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA), 66 Portland Place, London W1B 1AD

2011

Thursday 10 February

British Society of Otolaryngology (BSO): Balance Course

Queen Elizabeth Postgraduate Centre, Birmingham
Approximate attendees: 35

This is a one-day course on the management of dizzy patients. It aims to provide ENT surgeons of all grades with the necessary tools to diagnose and treat patients in a routine ENT clinic. The emphasis of the course is on clinical techniques and management strategies which work for the general ENT surgeon rather than the neuro-otologist. The course will also give an insight into which investigations are likely to influence management. A morning session of lectures is followed in the afternoon by practical worked examples of common balance disorders.

Friday 11 February

British Society of Otolaryngology (BSO): Annual Meeting

Queen Elizabeth Postgraduate Centre, Birmingham
Approximate attendees: 100

The Annual Meeting is a themed event aimed at practising consultants and senior trainees with an interest in otology. The format consists of a series of short presentations by UK consultants and invited international guest speakers. The morning session will concentrate on tympanoplasty and ossiculoplasty and in the afternoon a neuro-otology update is planned.
